He informs Richard, who is looking for a hotel to celebrate his birthday, that his company is prepared to offer the Hotel Ball room at a price of RM3,000.00. Richard is hesitant and decides to think the matter over. The marketing staff left, pointing out that the price only remains open until 8 May 2016.

On the following day, Richard sees an advertisement by Relaxing Resort Sdn. Bhd. which offers the Hotel Ball room at a price of RM2,500.00. He immediately telephones Relaxing Resort in order to accept the terms of this advertisement. The company replies that owing to a high demand, the advertised offer has been withdrawn.

On 7 May, Richard telephones Relaxing Resort Sdn. Bhd. again. He leaves a message with the answering service in which he accepts the offer of RM3,000.00 made by the company marketing staff. He also sends a letter confirming the reservation that afternoon. He later goes for a drink at nearby Starbucks where a friend of his informs him that he can rent the Hotel Ball room for just RM2,000.00. Richard rushes home and telephones Relaxing Resort Sdn. QUESTION 3 (25 MARKS)

(a) Last week, Sarah went to a Mantap Electronics Sdn Bhd and was interested in purchasing a television, a microwave oven, a washing machine and a refrigerator for her new home. However, she did not have enough cash and the owner of Mantap Electronics Sdn Bhd suggested that she enters into a hire-purchase agreement with Baik Finance Berhad (BFB) which provides financial assistance. Sarah agreed and was asked to sign a hire-purchase agreement. The agreement is for all the goods but it does not state how much she has to pay monthly, the term charges and the number of instalments she has to pay in total. When she enquired, she was told that the details will be filled in later and that she should just sign it first. Sarah requested a copy of the agreement to be given to her. Three weeks have passed since she signed the agreement but she has not received a copy. Instead, BFB asked Sarah to pay for the first monthly instalment. Sarah is not sure of the validity of the hire-purchase agreement.

At the same time, Sarah is worried because she just received a written 4th Schedule Notice from Bank Handal Berhad (BHB) for failing to pay three monthly instalments consecutively as required by vehicle hire purchase agreement which she has entered last year. Two weeks later, BHB sent its agent to repossess the car from Sarah. Sarah dissatisfied with BHB's action and intended to take legal action.
